

Stephanie Ritchie Co-Treasurer

Stephanie spent her childhood in Massachusetts and moved to NH to attend Keene State College.

She holds degrees in both Dance and Computer Programming & Design. She landed at Badger in Gilsum and stayed for over a decade to work in International Business Management.

Stephanie currently sits on the Granite State District Export Council. She has been NH Advocate Leader for CARE and is active in many organizations centered around reducing national & global poverty, healthcare access, refugee resettlement, and advancing women's issues. In her free time she loves to start but not finish knitting projects and bike around Keene with her energetic kids and rescue pups.
